

Copyright Release Form

“I, _____, hereby agree that my oral history interview(s), photographs, print, audiovisual and/or multimedia resources (henceforth known as “Contributions”) shall be used by Parks Canada for the possible interpretation and inclusion in resources at Grasslands National Park and at Fort Battleford and Fort Walsh National Historic Sites, and they shall also be used by the Gabriel Dumont Institute (GDI) for the possible inclusion in cultural and educational resources and on the Virtual Museum of Métis History and Culture (www.metismuseum.ca), a free online Métis cultural website.

Once my Contributions have been selected for inclusion in a Parks Canada and/or GDI interpretative and educational resource:

- I shall be acknowledged as having intellectual property over them.
- I shall also have the right to decline those aspects of my Contributions that I do not want used in the above-mentioned resources.
- Parks Canada and GDI shall put a disclaimer on any interpretative and educational resources that use my Contributions stating that they are to be used for research purposes only.
- My Contributions cannot be used for any purpose other than those which are listed above. Any further use of my Contributions by Parks Canada and GDI shall require my written permission or that of my successors.

DISCLAIMER: I warrant that the opinions expressed in my Contributions are my own, and are not the opinion of GDI or Parks Canada or any of their employees. GDI and Parks Canada have the right to edit out any contentious or libellous matter contained in my Contributions before they use them for the purposes outlined above. I also warrant that I hold copyright over any photographs, print, audiovisual and/or multimedia resources that I wish to share with Parks Canada and GDI.
